

Storytellers Charter

This is my story to share.

Words are powerful, and I share my story with positive intent.

I have safeguarded my identity and the identity of others.

My story is not designed to harm me or anyone else.

My story may provoke strong feelings, but I am not rallying others to a cause.

I am responsible for my words, and I take that responsibility seriously.